Inclusive and Adaptive Recreation for People with Disabilities

In an effort to meet the needs of the community and in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Lodi Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services wants to ensure that all individuals have access to our programs. Reasonable accommodations for programs and activities are available and will be determined on an individual basis. To request an accommodation, mark the "Accommodations Needed" box on the registration form or contact Parks Administration. Staff will contact you. Allow at least two weeks advance notice.

Keep it Fun

For the enjoyment and safety of everyone, Lodi Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services requires all participants to treat people and facilities with respect and abide by all rules and direction from staff. Lodi Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services reserves the right to refuse service to anyone for failure to abide by these standards.

New Economic Realities Straining Parks & Rec Agencies

Economists may say the Great Recession ended in 2009, but parks and recreation agencies are still feeling the effects, according to Penn State researchers. That's certainly the case in Lodi.

Parks agencies nationwide bore the brunt of the recession's fiscal realities as cities and other government entities had to make difficult choices with fewer dollars. Between 2003 and 2013, funding for parks and recreation nationally decreased by 7 percent, compared to a 63-percent increase between 1989 and 2003. Our struggles mirror those in other communities, with fewer full-time staff and more part-timers, and less money spent on replacing worn out facilities.

As the researchers found, a "structural shift" has occurred nationally in parks and recreation funding since the Great Recession.

"(P)ark and recreation agencies could be subject to an even greater struggle to maintain funding into the future," the researchers wrote. "Leaders need to act now to address this challenge to ensure all members of their communities will be able to enjoy the benefits of parks and recreation well into the future."

In Lodi, full-time staffing for the Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services Department is the same as it was in 1970, despite twice as many parks and the addition of Hutchins Street Square. We've sacrificed positions in order to have some funds to put into deferred maintenance and repairs, but shorter winters and more parks are forcing us to change the way we operate.

That's why we've taken the drastic step of exploring the potential of selling two parks, Century (at Century and Church) and Borchardt (next to Borchardt Elementary School), with the hope of finding additional funds to replace worn out park facilities.

One of the Lodi Chamber of Commerce subcommittees recently circulated a paper written by a Washington, D.C. think tank on using private funds to benefit public parks. Various partnerships were discussed at a meeting that included Chamber members and Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services staff.

In the end, however, the paper concluded that the best way to sustain public parks is a dedicated tax that provides funding for an independently operated park system. Whether or not that is feasible in Lodi remains to be seen, but our current path heads us down a difficult road. ■

? DID YOU KNOW

- The average age of a vehicle in the Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services Department's (PRCS) fleet is 13.5 years.
- In 1970, Lodi spent $294,453 (inflation-adjusted) on Lodi Lake Park maintenance, before the 58-acre Nature Area was added to the park. Today, the Parks Division spends $163,180 a year on maintaining the entire 334-acre park system, consisting of 26 parks, 16 athletic fields, and 18 playgrounds.
- It costs approximately $160,000 to replace one worn out playground. Henry Glaves Park playground, scheduled for replacement this spring, is the first replaced in the City without grant funds in nearly three decades.
- Until recently, the Parks Division was using an air compressor made in 1941.
- PRCS spends $40,000 a year to rent indoor gym space for basketball and volleyball programs, and children's school break camps, because it does not own its own indoor multiuse recreation center.
- The paved path and sidewalk around DeBenedetti Park makes for a one-mile loop.
- Since January 2017, the Parks Division has cut down 18 dead or severely diseased trees, and has removed 35 trees that have fallen in City parks at a cost in excess of $100,000.
- The number of people renting kayaks, paddleboards and other non-motorized watercraft at Lodi Lake Park has doubled in four years. ■

NEW!

Summer

New in 2018, the Parks, Recreation and Cultural Services department (PRCS) will offer five exciting summer day camp programs. For more than 20 years, parents have recognized PRCS as the leading provider of safe and affordable after-school programs, along with fall and spring break camps. Our new summer day camp program is loaded with a diverse curriculum of fun and memory-making activities that will be second-to-none in San Joaquin County. As a member organization of the American Camp Association (ACA) whose mission is to enrich the lives of children, youth and adults through the camp experience, PRCS camp administrators will follow ACA accreditation guidelines for staff development and training, safety and risk management, and rigorous standards for operational excellence. Each camp location will have an experienced Site Director and will maintain a 1:10 Counselor-to-Camper ratio. Additional supervision and support will be provided by Leaders-in-Training (LIT's: 16-17 year old Junior Counselors) and 1-2 *Counselors-in-Training (CIT's: see program description, next page).

Campers of all ages will enjoy safe and age-appropriate outdoor play, recreational games, community field trips, sports, nature, theater arts, develop new and lasting friendships and unplug from devices – just like the good old days! Two four-week sessions are offered to youth ages 5 – 12. The *Counselor-In-Training (CIT) program is reserved for youth ages 13 – 15 and an application process will be offered due to limited available positions.

Outdoor Adventure Camp

Location: Lodi Lake & Nature Area, 1101 W. Turner Road.

OA Camp is designed to celebrate the great outdoors and allow your child to explore and enjoy nature every day. Basecamp will be Lodi's beloved 58-acre Lodi Lake & Nature Area. Outdoor learning and adventures will include nature walks and hikes, themed outdoor games, swimming, canoeing, kayaking, nature-based crafts and experiments, and docent-led tours and demonstrations that highlight the park's animals, insects and ecosystems. (Min. 20/Max. 30)

F.A.S.T. Sports Camp

Location: National Guard Armory, 333 N. Washington Street

Fun, Active, Sports and Teamwork give way to the naming of this exciting, new recreational-athletic camp. Participants will be grouped into two age divisions (juniors and seniors), with the opportunity to develop new skills and refine existing talents in football, baseball, volleyball, basketball and swimming. They will also be introduced to additional sports, such as: ultimate frisbee, dodgeball, soccer and kickball. Campers will visit athletic facilities throughout Lodi and have local coaches and athletes speak to them about opportunities that exist and how to achieve their athletic and fitness goals. Teamwork, sportsmanship and positive behavior on and off the field will be emphasized, as those characteristics are the foundation for a successful future. (Min. 40/Max. 60)

Kid-Drama Camp

Location: Charlene Powers Lange Theatre at Hutchins Street Square, 125 S. Hutchins Street

Our campers will have the exciting opportunity to produce a modified-scale musical in just four weeks! Each session will lead its participants through the process of auditioning (everyone gets cast), choreography, staging and music vocal rehearsals. Parents, family and friends are invited to see the production on the second-to-the-last day of camp. (Min. 20/Max. 30)

Summer Blast Camp

This general recreation camp offers campers the best that summer has to offer – a wide variety of activities both indoors and outdoors, interesting and fun field trips, with an emphasis on new and lasting friendships and cooperative learning experiences. Arts and crafts, visual and culinary arts, swimming, kayaking, fishing, urban architecture and nature walks, as well as non-competitive water/sports activities will help ensure campers have a jam-packed memorable summer break. Location: Hutchins Street Square, 125 S. Hutchins Street (Min. 30/Max. 40)

Program Note:

Healthy snacks will be offered mornings and afternoon, but lunches must be brought from home.

Counselors-in-Training (CIT's)

Designed for young teens ages 13-15, CIT's are part of the camp team! They will work, play, and train alongside camp staff and assist in providing a quality camp experience for the younger participants. CIT's will help the children make new friends, learn to redirect unwanted behaviors, mediate and troubleshoot minor issues, and assist with planning and implementing fun and adventurous activities. They will also attend and assist with all field trips as part of their training. Ultimately, the CIT obtain job skills, understand expectations and follow through, and take away practical work experiences that will help them with future employment within our own camp programs. This is an exciting opportunity to learn, mingle, and make valuable lasting memories as a Counselor-in-Training. Due to high demand, there will also be an application and interview process preceding registration. Registrants not chosen for the program will receive a full refund.

Registration

Space is limited; please register early. Please inquire if you have any questions. Summer Camp is not sponsored or coordinated by Lodi Unified School District. Registration must be done at 230 W. Elm Street.

Refunds

Registrants must request all refunds on a Summer Camp Refund Form. If a registrant makes a refund request more than 10 business days prior to the start of the session, PRCS issues a refund for the full session fee minus a $15 transaction fee. If a registrant makes a refund request 10 business days or less from the start of the session, PRCS does not issue a refund. PRCS does not issue a refund for any session already in progress. Refunds for medical injuries or financial hardships will be determined on a case by case basis. The date the Summer Camp Refund Form is received and date stamped determines if a refund is granted. All checks must clear before PRCS processes any refunds. Please allow 3-4 weeks for PRCS to issue a refund. If you do not have computer access, you can call or pick up a Summer Camp Refund Form at both PRCS Administration and Hutchins Street Square Offices.
